

Pi Mu Epsilon
and PI Math Club invite you to

MATH MATTERS in 2017

The mathematics honor society Pi Mu Epsilon, in cooperation with PI Math Club, is again sponsoring the annual student talks event MATH MATTERS, and you are invited to see some exciting presentations by our students:

Kenda Barnes: Modeling Adult Women's Weight

Anthony Hartle: Calculating NHL Ratings using an Adapted Elo Model

Diana Bezuhlyy: Modeling the Volatility of Lincoln Financial Group Daily Stock Returns

Aaron Thieme and Matthew Wyss: Formality as Permutation Invariance

Duy Anh Do and Giang Le: How Math Guides the Stars

Srikiran Dasari and Connor Malott: Families of Polar Curves

*

Wednesday, April 26

Starting at noon

KT 216