A note on the Laplacian spectral radius.

Miaomiao Han, West Virginia University

The Laplacian spectral radius of a graph is the largest eigenvalue of the associated Laplacian matrix. In this talk, we characterize those graphs which maximize the Laplacian spectral radii among all the bipartite graphs with (edge-)connectivity at most k.